Now it is easier to stay in touch

AIM has just launched new pages on Facebook and Twitter, two of the worlds leading platforms for social networking. By becoming a fan of the Facebook page or following us on Twitter you can stay in touch with the latest developments in service, and news, updates or changes from the workshop as they happen and before we issue the next newsletter.

engines, gearboxes, generators and compressors, with all of the work being carried out by fully our trained and experienced workshop technicians.

We are conveniently situated on the El Herafyin Industrial Area directly behind Hurghada Airport, easily accessible from the El Gouna Road and the Hurghada Outer Ring Road.

Links to the pages can be found in the left hand column of this mail, or on the contacts page of the web site.

Important Update

As a result of the recent protests seen across Egypt, the decision was made to temporarily close the workshop at AIM in order to allow the technicians and other staff to return home to their families and ensure that their homelife and family environment is safeguarded.

In the mean time, should you have anything you wish to discuss with us, or require any engineering support, please do not hesitate to contact us via email or call us on (002) 017 591 9 591
